The wind has swept from the wide atmosphere Each vapor that obscured the sunset's ray; And pallid evening twines its beaming hair In duskier braids around the languid eyes of day; Silence and twilight, unbeloved of men, Creep hand in hand from you obscurest glen.

They breathe their spells towards the departing day, Encompassing the earth, air, stars, and sea; Light, sound, and motion own the potent sway, Responding to the charm with its own mystery. The winds are still, or the dry church-tower grass Knows not their gentle motions as they pass.

Thou too, grial Pile! whose pinnacles Point from one shrine like pyramids of fire, Obeyest in silence their sweet solemn spells, Clothing in hues of heaven thy dim and distant Around whose lessening and invisible height

Gather among the stars the clouds of night. The dead are sleeping in their sepulchres
And, mouldering as they sleep, a thrilling sound,
Half sense, half thought, among the darkness stirs,
Breathed from their wormy beds all living things around, And mingling with the still night and mute sky Its awful hush is felt inaudibly.

Thus solemnized and softened, death is mild And terrorless as this serenest night: Here could I hope, like some inquiring child Sporting on graves, that death did hide from h man sight Sweet secrets, or beside its breathless sleep The loveliest dreams perpetual watch did keep.

The thing appears to meet with universal favor here, and it is trusted that Goyernment will at once improve the opportunity to make the purchase, lest the property may fall into the hands of other persons, who will, when it becomes absolutely necessary to buy the property—which will beyond doubt seen be the case—ask double the sum for which it can now be bought.

A horrible, unnatural murder was perpetrated on Sunday evening at the house of William Kelly on the Liberty Road, in Baltimore county, a few miles from the city, by a man named Martin Coughlan, upon his little daughter Mary, a child aged about eleven years. Mr. Clarence Brown, son of Chas. C. This vessel has been repaired, as they term it here; when, in fact, we learn on inquiry, that there are but few pieces of timber from the old frigate Constellation which have been allowed to remain in her. The reason is obvious; the honorable members of Congress make no provision for the building of new vessels, but pass an ap-propriation for the repair of some of the old hulks in the Navy, when, to make the money serviceable to this arm of our national defence, this plan has to be resorted to. When will the people's representatives become convinced of the necessity of increasing the number of ships in our Navy, that a favorable comparison may be made with that of less favored na-

No preparation has, as yet, been made in the Yard for the construction of the two steam frigates which the Secretary of the Navy has NEW style of Fancy Summer Shirts of the most directed to be built here, other than the extension of shiphouse B, which proved too short. When the necessary documents are received here, and the Naval Constructor ordered to proceed, there will be an addition to the large force now employed. The keel of one of these steam vessels is to be laid in the ship house mentioned above; the other, on the vacant space next to the dry dock, where the workmen will be exposed to all kinds of weather. What a pity it is that something is not done with the old vessel now on the stocks in ship house A, which has been suffered to remain there for so many years, to rot and waste away, and occupy such valuable room! If she is not to be completed, let the old frame be taken to pieces, that this house may serve some more useful service than shedding for the dilapidated unfinished vessel which has for so many of July.

ELIXIR OR CORDIAL.—At first the properties attributed to Pro'. MORSE'S INVIGORATING ELIXIR OR CORDIAE were deemed fabulous. The public often deceived, could not believe the simple and sublime truths announced by the discoverer.— But facts, undeniable facts attested by witnesses of the highest class and character, are now triumphing over all doubts. INCREDULITY IS OVER-THROWN by a mass of testimony which is perfectly The ELIXIR remedies, in all cases, the deplorable evils arising from a misuse or abuse of the various organs which make up the wonderful machine called man. It restores to full vigor every delicate functien connected with that mysterious compound agency of matter and mind, necessary to the re-pro-duction of human life. To persons of feeble muscu-lar frame, or deficient in vital power, it is recommended as the only means of communicating that energy which is necessary to the proper enjoyment of all the natural appetites, as well as the higher under the natural appetites, as well as the higher under the natural appetites. Its beneficial effects are not constituted in the control of the natural appetites, as well as the higher under the natural appetites. Its beneficial effects are not constituted in the Undertaking branch of my business, and in the Undertaking branch of my business and my busin mental attributes. Its beneficial effects are not confined to either sex or to any age. The feeble girl, the sailing wife, the listless, ernevated youth, the overworn man of business, the victim of nervous depression, the individual suffering from general debility, or from the weakness of a single organ, will and the sailing wife. The sailing wife is a few moments notice, and I assure those who may give me a call that I will spare no pains to carry out their orders to their entire satisfaction.

JAMES F. HARVEY, all find immediate and permanent relief from the use of this incomparable renovator. To those who have a predisposition to paralysis it will prove a complete and unfailing safeguard against that terrible malady. There are many, perhaps, who have so trifled with their constitutions, that they think themselves beyond the reach of medicine. Let not say on these decreis. even these despair. The Elixir deals with disease as it exists, without reference to causes, and will not only remove the disorder itself, but REBUILD THE BROKEN CONSTITUTION.

The derangements of the system, leading to nerrous diseases, and the forms of nervous disease itself, are so numerous that it would require a column to enumerate the maladies for which this prepararation is a specific. A few, however, may be enumerated, viz: neuralgia, tic dolereaux, heatache, incipient paralysis, hysteria, palpitation of the heart, spinal affections, muscular debility, tremers, fiatulence, a pricking sensation in the flesh, numbness, torpidity of the liver mental depression. ity of the liver, mental depression, weakness of the will, indispo ition te move, faintness after exercise, broken sleep an I terrifying dreams, inability to remain in one place or position, weakness of the pro-creative organs, sexual incompetency, melaneholy, monomania, fluor albus, a nking at the stomach, female irregularities, a chronic tendency to miscar-riage, emaciation, and all complaints growing out of a free indulgence of the passions, and all barrenness that does [not proceed from organic causes beyond the reach of medicine. Whenever the organs to be acted upon are free from malformation or strictural diseases it is averred will replace weakness with strength, incapacity with efficiency, irregularity with uniform and natural activity, and this not only without hazard of reaction, but with a happy effect on the general organisation.

Bear in mind that all maladies, wherever they begin, finish with the nervous system, and that the paralization of the nerves or motion and sensation is physical death. Bear in mind also, that for every kind of nervous disease the Elizer Cordial is the only reliable preparation known.

are extended over the public lands along the line of the railroad herein before mentioned. Therefore, claims by pre-emption which attach under said act to any of the above lands, must be proven up prior to the day fixed for the restoration of the lands to private entry, or as soon as practicable after seeing Notice is also hereby given to all settlers within the SIX mile limits of the above-mentioned road who were settled upon such lands prior to their withdraw al, that they may now come forward and establish their pre emption claims, if entitled under the act of 27th March, 1854, to the satisfaction of the register and receiver of the proper land office, and make pay-ment therefor at the ordinary minimum of one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre. And such set-tlers on the residue of the lands withdrawn from sale or entry on the 11th June, 1852, are likewise entitled to establish and pay for their claims under said act of the 27th March, 1854. In order to prevent confusion and insure accuracy applications to enter the above lands will be received at the land offices, respectively, only for the first range (beginning with the lowest township) on the day appointed for the commencement of the restoration of the lands to entry; on the second day thereafter for the second range; on the fourth day for the third range, and so on, in the order is which the ranges are advertised, so as to have one day intervene between the days of application for the arts on
